UPDATE

Current Schedule updated.

We have a total of 13 for tonight. If we have another 5 to 7, I'm sure we could re-jig the numbers between the two venues (Turf City and The Cage) so that both sessions go on. If we don't, then the session at The Cage will be cancelled.

Tomorrow night's session is full. Anyone else can only be in reserve. If anyone can switch to another day, please do.

5 places left for Wednesday night at The Cage, and 4 places left for Thursday night at Sports Planet.

Choosing sides, not just a history, but the future as well. Any two regulars can choose their teams.

Each player having both colours with them would be useful for this purpose. The colours for each day are pre-assigned:

- Monday: Black, Red.
- Tuesday: Red, White.

[contd]

- Wednesday: White, Black.
- Thursday: Black, Red.

If you don't have sufficient jerseys or T-shirts in the requisite colours, you can always put in your order for a FIOFAFI jersey or T-shirt in the second batch. 😊

Session summaries will now appear on the night of the session itself.

Sub-categories, and other changes to the blog.

We now have three proposals for an 11-a-side game:

- Saturday, 25 April 2009, at 3 pm, in Tampines, against Kevin/Mark's church team.
- Saturday, 9 May 2009, against Benjamin's company team. Time and venue to be fixed.
- Saturday, 16 May 2009, against James's team. Time and venue to be fixed.

[contd]

We can do one, two or all three games, as long as we have sufficient numbers of players.

Responses on the blog please. I'd like to have a sense of the numbers we have by this week.

Depending on whether the 11-a-side game goes ahead, we could do the next 7 or 8-a-side game at The Premier Pitch on 25 April 2009 or the following Saturday (2 May 2009), 5 to 6 pm.

Anyone up for a re-match against Dennis's team?

Why the venues and weekly schedule are the way they are.

Stuff on football and other sports on events on "Seven Days".
